

a first electrically conductive end termination wrapping around a first end of the PTC elements and electrically contacting the electrode disposed on the first substrate; and a second electrically conductive end termination wrapping around a second end of the PTC elements and electrically contacting the electrode disposed on the second substrate.

---